Know Your Legal Rights to VA Disability Benefits

What you don't know can cost you thousands of dollars. Call us at 800-878-2149.

Preparing and filing a claim for VA benefits involves much more than simply filling out a few forms and mailing them to the VA. You can easily fill out the forms, but neglect to provide exactly the right evidence to prove your case. Especially important and tricky is the medical evidence supporting the need for the extra, special benefit for aid and attendance. Not filing a certified fully developed claim can delay your claim at the VA for months, putting more financial strain and stress on you and your loved ones. Our job is to take that burden off your shoulders and make your experience with the VA as pleasant and timely as possible.

VA Disability Programs

The VA administers disability programs for veterans and surviving spouses with both Service Connected and Non-Service Connected disabilities. Most elderly veterans seek increased benefits for their Service Connected disabilities but the majority of claims are for Non-service Connected disabilities. This important benefit is called "Pension," although many call it "Aid and Attendance." Pension guarantees wartime veterans a minimum monthly income after medical expenses are paid out-of-pocket.

How Can I Get Started?

The first thing is simply call us at 800-878-2149. We will start with a brief interview to determine if it appears you have a good case for benefits. If you do, and you decide to engage our services, we will begin the Pre-Filing Consultation Process. If we can legally prove your entitlement, we will charge a small fee. If we cannot, there is no charge for our time or services. All representation before the VA is absolutely free from any charge whatsoever. We guarantee the accuracy of our legal opinion.

The High Cost of Care...

It comes as no surprise to anyone who is looking at or investigating assisted living, independent living or even in-home care that the cost is often out of reach for the elderly. Elder Veterans Legal Aid Group has one simple goal: to ensure every veteran and surviving spouse of a veteran understand their entitlement rights to financial assistance from the VA. We want every qualified individual to have the means to live safely, with care and dignity.

Did you know there are several diseases directly connected to Agent Orange exposure. The federal law states that if you were in-country, you were exposed!

What legal services do we provide?

We provide our clients with two important legal services.

Pre-Filing Consultation. Do you want to know if you are legally entitled to benefits before you make a care buying decision? Do you need these vital benefits in order to afford assisted or independent living? Do you want to know the truth about VA benefits and how they apply to your situation? Our Pre-Filing Consultation answers those questions and more. We will provide you with a written and guaranteed accurate legal opinion regarding your case and evidence. Before you buy care, you will know and understand your rights and financial benefits and avoid potential VA scams.

Representation. Any client of our firm will be thoroughly and completely represented before the VA. We prepare all of the necessary forms and evidence for you. We file the claim under the VA's Expedited Claim Adjudication Initiative and we actively prosecute the claim until it is properly and accurately awarded.
